NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL

Successful representation all across the United States and Internationally

Located in midtown Manhattan the Law Office of James Kousouros, focuses primarily on criminal defense advocacy. As such, Mr. Kousouros and his counsel. These cases include prosecutions for complex securities violations, Medicaid/Medicare and healthcare fraud, pharmaceutical industry fraud, tax fraud, as well as other white-collar crimes. Mr. Kousouros also handles prosecutions for racketeering, homicide, narcotics violations, DWI, domestic violence, simple assault, and all other criminal law prosecutions under state and federal laws.

All Stages of Representation

As an inherent part of his practice, Mr. Kousouros and his team represent clients in all stages of the criminal process:

- › pre-arrest investigatory stage
- › to grand jury proceedings
- › indictment
- › plea negotiations
- › trial
- › all levels of the appellate process—including post conviction litigation and appeals.

National and International Presence

Mr. Kousouros appears in state and federal courts throughout the country, as well as international courts. In addition, he represents clients before various regulatory review boards.

A Commitment to Every Client

James Kousouros' clients have come from every walk of life, and their cases have been of both high notoriety and of little notice. In either case, Mr. Kousouros has demonstrated his commitment to providing an equally vigorous, aggressive and effective defense for each and every one of his clients. Mr. Kousouros accomplishes this by faithfully adhering to his abiding belief that each and every client deserves the best efforts of his team. Indeed, every client will benefit from the full array of services available for a successful defense — including private investigators, forensic experts, interpreters, the latest in electronic databases for court documents and case data, and all other necessary professional resources.

In addition, Mr. Kousouros insists on something that's not very common in this field: frequent client contact. This insistence comes from his firm belief that a client's participation in his or her own defense is crucial — not only to ensure that every case is properly and thoroughly investigated, but to ensure that the client fully understands and considers all of the options available. For Mr. Kousouros, the benefits of full client participation are essential to his goal of achieving the best resolution possible.

He fights hard and cares deeply.

—Dominic, Staten Island

If you, or someone you know, is facing or fearing a criminal investigation or prosecution, you need a criminal defense attorney you can trust—one who is an expert in the field and an honest and compassionate individual. You need an attorney you feel comfortable talking to, and one who will take the time to educate you in the criminal process. You will also need someone you are convinced will protect you and fight zealously and aggressively for you. James Kousouros honors these qualities, and is committed to providing them to each and every one of his clients.

There were thousands of documents...I was fully acquitted...I got my life back, thanks to you James. –LiJing

Resolutions with you in mind

Mr. Kousouros understands that the fact of a criminal charge alone can be tremendously disruptive for one's personal and family life. He also understands that any disposition, other than acquittal or a significant reduction in the nature and degree of the charge, can impact professional licenses, immigration status and employment. Because of this, he is exceedingly careful to craft resolutions which will have the least negative effect on his client's life. That is why both professionals – including attorneys, physicians, pharmacists, financial service providers, and other business people – and non-professionals seek his services when they are charged with a crime or are the subject of a criminal investigation.

Resources

The Law Office of James Kousouros offers you the benefits of a small firm—a personal, comfortable environment where you don't get lost in a maze—with the same legal resources available to the larger firms—including private investigators, bail bondsmen, forensic experts, interpreters, the latest in electronic databases for court documents and case data, and other necessary professional resources.

What you will receive from James Kousouros is a promise to fight—vigorously, relentlessly, strategically, and effectively—at every stage of your defense. He will use everything at his disposal—his deep knowledge of the law, his thorough command of the intricacies of the criminal justice system, and his familiarity with the theories and tactics of the prosecutors - to develop the strategy that will allow him to take advantage of every opportunity that

What you can expect throughout the process

Free Consultation In most cases Mr. Kousouros will provide you with a free consultation, during which he will assess your situation to determine, first, if you need a lawyer, and second, if he is the right one for you. He will spend time reviewing your case and discussing it with you. These will be substantive conversations and not sales pitches. He will ask you to bring your paperwork in or send it to him in advance. If the case is electronically filed he will review it prior to meeting with you.

What you can expect An honest and direct appraisal of your criminal case. You will hear what you need to hear in order to make an informed decision that is rooted in the realities of your case—the truth. You will not hear promises nor receive any guarantees of particular outcomes— no lawyer can or should provide such assurances.

Pre-Arrest In those cases where the client is under investigation and has not been arrested, Mr. Kousouros will contact authorities to ensure that his client is not questioned unless he is at his client's side. He will review the facts with the client and often commence his own investigation in order to gather evidence to assist in his efforts to prevent an arrest—an outcome he has often achieved. If an arrest is unavoidable, Mr. Kousouros will exercise his best efforts to arrange for a voluntary surrender and spare the client the indignity of a public arrest.

What you can expect The benefit of his long established good relationships with both law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies. This is critical in creating an atmosphere to respectfully discuss a client's situation with the authorities and have them be willing to listen to you.

Investigation Mr. Kousouros will immediately conduct meetings with his client in order to get a full and complete account of who his client is and the circumstances surrounding the criminal charges. Every case involves these two components—the case and the person. If it turns out that the case is too strong, mitigation is often found in the person. To that end he will take all necessary steps and precautions to ensure that evidence is preserved, leads are investigated, witnesses are located and interviewed, and that all evidence is examined. He will visit the scene because he knows that the physical layout of the scene of an alleged crime is critically important to an effective defense.

All of these efforts are targeted to the task of identifying both the strengths and the weaknesses in the prosecution's case—a task indispensable to pre-trial hearings, trial preparation and plea negotiations. It is only with this knowledge that an attorney can effectively and meaningfully counsel a client through the criminal process.

What you can expect A complete and thorough investigation targeted to specific circumstances etc.

Negotiations Mr. Kousouros' expertise in the law and mastery of the criminal process, combined with the command of the facts he has achieved through his investigation, place him in a very strong position during plea negotiations. The mutual respect he has cultivated over the years with prosecuting authorities, as well as his professionalism and cordiality, magnify his effectiveness and ensures that he will be poised to obtain the best resolution possible for his client.

What you can expect An advocate who has the respect and ear of adversaries in his field as well as a partner who puts your personal circumstances at the forefront of his negotiations.

Pre-trial Motions Mr. Kousouros will use his considerable experience to strategically navigate the pre-trial process in a manner that safeguards all of his client's rights and best interests. He will assert all standard legal rights of his client in his motion papers, but he will also use his creativity and dexterity to devise novel arguments and positions where appropriate.

What you can expect As in all areas of his practice, Mr. Kousouros' motions are of the highest quality and consistently earn the praise of judges and prosecutors alike.

Trial Having tried scores of cases in both state and federal courts, Mr. Kousouros has developed and mastered the most effective strategies for all aspects of trial litigation—from jury selection, opening argument, and courtroom presentation to cross examination and closing argument. (Profile).

What you can expect

James Kousouros is the founder and principal of the Law Office of James Kousouros. His career began in 1985 after a coveted clerkship at the Appellate Division, Third Department in Albany, New York where he was responsible for writing draft opinions for the Justices on a wide array of cases. After completing his clerkship, Mr. Kousouros served as an Assistant District Attorney in Bronx County. Thereafter, over twenty-eight years ago, he opened his criminal defense practice. Since then, Mr. Kousouros has handled thousands of criminal matters in the state and federal courts throughout the United States.

A distinguished reputation

During his years of practice, Mr. Kousouros has earned a distinguished reputation for providing and maintaining the highest levels of professional and ethical standards. He is also known for his meticulous preparation, and is highly regarded as a fierce and passionate trial attorney. As a result of what has been termed his “exemplary” legal representation, it is Mr. Kousouros’ distinct honor to have received the highest of accolades from members of the federal and state judiciary, as well as prosecuting authorities. Indeed, his cross-examinations have been hailed as exemplary—and have even prompted a noted Brooklyn law professor to use a transcript of one as a primary source.

In addition, Mr. Kousouros is highly regarded as a forceful, innovative, and effective negotiator who is always armed with both a full command of the facts of his case, and a creative manifest of all possible legal options. So armed, he enters negotiations with an insightful analysis of the prosecution’s evidence. This analysis is tailored to expose the weaknesses in the prosecutor’s case, to place his client in a position of strength, and to open the door to novel resolutions. Mr. Kousouros also makes it a practice to maintain strong working relationships with his adversaries. He does this not only because he places a high value on professionalism and respects his adversaries as colleagues, but because he knows that those relationships—together with his reputation as a formidable advocate—translate into better outcomes for his clients.

Sought after legal expert

Over the years Mr. Kousouros has been sought out as a source for his legal expertise on criminal matters by several different media organizations. Indeed, he has been a commentator on major television networks such as Fox News, Discovery Channel—Investigations, Channel 7 Eyewitness News and CW 11, and is currently a weekly legal commentator on the RNN news show hosted by the Emmy Award winning journalist Richard French. Mr. Kousouros has also been interviewed for his opinion as a legal expert by newspaper organizations such as The New York Times, The Journal News, New York Post and Newsday, among others. White Collar Crime

◆ FULL ACQUITTAL IN SWEEPING WHITE-COLLAR PROSECUTION

Southern district of New York criminal copyright infringement.
In this federal case, the owner of a toy importing company was accused of importing and selling millions of dollars of copyrighted Nintendo games. The trial involved thousands of pages of documentary evidence and multiple witnesses who testified as to the manner of importation and resale. After the first trial ended in a mistrial, the defendant was fully exonerated at a second trial.

He fights hard and cares deeply.

I am 18 months sober and have my life back. My friend and attorney, I thank you.

James fought like it was his own life on the line...

◆ WITHDRAWAL OF CHARGES IN A LARGE MORTGAGE FRAUD

Eastern District of New York.
In this case the client was accused, along with her husband, of obtaining millions of dollars in fraudulent mortgages to purchase several properties. Despite a wealth of documentary evidence and an eight-week trial, a hung jury was declared and the prosecution thereafter declined to retry the client.

◆ AVOIDED THE FILING OF CHARGES

Represented numerous financial industry clients during the investigatory stage and in some (MANY???) cases succeeded in.

◆ NO CHARGES FOR CLIENT INVESTIGATED FOR COMPLICITY IN A BILLION-DOLLAR TAX FRAUD.

Here the client was an employee of a firm which was alleged to have used questionable interpretations of tax code provisions to shelter gains. The firm was accused of purchasing stock in multiple companies and selling it at a loss in order to offset gains from the sale of tangible assets. After a one and one-half year long investigation, Mr. Kousouros convinced investigators that no charges were warranted.

◆ NO INDICTMENT

James Kousouros is proud to have earned a reputation throughout the legal community as an outstanding trial attorney and negotiator. But he is most proud of the gratitude and trust he has earned from his clients—a testament not only to the outcomes he has achieved, but to the relationships he has forged.

The following testimonials were provided by past clients.

◆ When faced with legal issues that deeply affect one's life, not having legal representation that one can trust becomes unbelievably overwhelming. However, with James Kousouros I felt totally confident and secure that my best interests were being addressed and that every step was being taken to procure the best result for me. James' zealous representation and tireless dedication created a connection between the firm and myself that instills the trust that I believe every person in need of legal assistance should seek. I would highly and unequivocally recommend James Kousouros to anyone in need of legal help.

— Tim Garcia from the Republic of the Philippines

◆ I was charged in the Southern District of New York with criminal copyright infringement. The government accused me of millions of dollars of fraud and said I confessed when I was arrested. I hired James to represent me and after one trial ended in a hung jury, I was fully acquitted at my second trial. I am eternally grateful every day for his kindness, his courtesy and his full attention to my case. We prepared for hours on end for this trial. There were thousands of documents and they were all scanned, reviewed and then used to our advantage when possible. There was nothing we were not prepared for. After two years of stress I got my life back, thanks to you, James.

— LiJing

◆ My case was in the federal court in New York and I was charged with selling kilogram quantities of cocaine. The mandatory minimum was ten years and there was a lot of evidence against me. It did not look as though there was any way around this. I hired James and explained that my dealing was the product of a longstanding substance abuse problem. He fully investigated my prior history and we entered the plea knowing that while the minimum was reduced to 97 months, there was no guarantee that I would receive any less time. James prepared an amazing sentence memorandum. He showed the court who I was, and that I deserved a chance at rehabilitation. I received a sentence of only 30 months and with the court's recommendation of a drug program my sentence was further reduced by one year. I received the help I needed in that program and I am back with my wife and children. That never would have happened if James wasn't the type of lawyer he is — he fights hard and cares deeply.

— Gene from Queens

◆ I am from Singapore and I was charged in a case in New York federal court with a conspiracy to import and distribute over 20 million dollars in counterfeit goods. I was in jail with no family or friends here and didn't know where to turn. A couple people told me about James — what a good guy he was, how honest he was, what a fighter he was. He came and met with me and we talked about the case. He told me to take my time and interview as many lawyers as I needed until I was comfortable. I knew I wanted James to represent me, and after he spoke with my family in Singapore, they hired him. I was always asking him if I was going to go home, but he never just told me what I wanted to hear, he told me what I had to hear — that he could not be sure of what the judge will do. It was easier to accept that truth because James was kind to me, he explained everything to me, and he visited with me often. In the end, the judge sentenced me to time served, which was years less than the guidelines called for, and I am home with my family. James was honest from the day we met and I thank him with all my heart.

— Yee from Singapore

◆ I hired James when I was notified that I was the target of a federal investigation at my bank. James immediately went to work investigating the case, examining it as though he were the one of the agents! He told me that this was the best way to defend the proposed accusations and hopefully convince the investigators that I was not the culprit. Thanks to James, we were successful. I can't imagine what it would have been like if I had not hired James for the investigation and waited instead to be charged with something. Being a target of an investigation is an unrelenting burden, and the stress and fear it brings is overwhelming. I don't know what I would have done without his guidance. Thank you brother.

— Michael from New Jersey

◆ I am Sohal and I was arrested in Michigan on a large scale narcotics conspiracy and brought to the Eastern District of New York to face these charges. I was originally charged with a crime that had a ten year minimum. I had no family or anyone to assist me until I was told about James. My family hired him from my home in Canada and within a few months, Mr. James had negotiated a plea with the government which carried only a two to three year sentence, instead of ten. There was a lot of evidence against me, and I was very grateful to be offered such a good deal. Mr. James had explained that given my background and minor role in the case, I had a chance of receiving a sentence below these guidelines. He always made it clear that there was no guarantee that this would happen. James gave the court a memorandum about me which included my entire life and the words of my wife and children and people I worked with in Canada. My hopes came true and after only a few months, I was sentenced to time served and sent home to my family. My thanks always to Mr. James.

— Sohal Baldev from Canada

◆ We hired James in 2007 to defend me in my murder case in Brooklyn. I was charged with the murder of one man and the attempted murder of another. I made a video taped statement after my arrest and at 18 years old, I thought my life was over. I knew I did not kill the one man and I knew I shot at the other in self defense, but proving that didn't even seem possible with four witnesses telling a different story. James investigated the case in every respect. He interviewed every witness he could find, he went to the scene and studied it and he knew it like the back of his hand. He spent hours with me preparing for our defense and my testimony. But most of all, what gave me the most faith, was that I knew he cared about me. I was acquitted, I am finishing school and I will never forget you James.

— Carlye from Brooklyn

◆ Many years ago, I found myself charged with the murder of a woman in a club in the Bronx. I could not believe that this was happening to me, and as the months went by I was getting weaker and weaker in jail, to the point where even though I knew in my heart I should go to trial and prove my innocence, I was almost convinced by my lawyer to plead guilty and stay in jail for ten years. A friend introduced me to James and after meeting with us and reviewing my case James became my lawyer. There were no false promises, just straight talk. He devised a strategy and investigated the case but he never promised we would win. Finally the delays stopped, the investigation that was never done was done immediately, and after a three week trial, I was acquitted. I am grateful for the day I met James.

— Carol from The Bronx

◆ I had two cases in the Bronx involving 8 robberies. The DA was offering me 15 years and would not come down. I was 17 and when my mom hired James I was sure that nobody could help me. The truth is that James didn't know either at first. As I look back on all that happened, I realize that that is one of the best things about him. I hated some of the things he told me, but now I know that as much as I didn't want to hear it, it was always the truth. As he worked on the case, we realized that it was less about what I did and did not do and more about who I was. James put in over 50 pages of information to the court explaining my life and my potential. He really cared about me and this was so clear to the judge. I received a much lower sentence from the judge, over ten years less than the DA's recommendation. I am in school now and I am going to be okay. I will never forget your advice and what you did for me James.

— Danny from The Bronx

◆ James I cannot thank you enough for your amazing representation. I had a case in Brooklyn where I was charged with possession of one kilogram of cocaine. I have a prior record and I was being offered 20 years. We had no choice but to move forward toward trial. The preparation for the hearings was amazing. James had been to the scene many times. He realized that the police testimony that I was stopped at a bus stop was impossible. There was no bus stop on the corner they put my car! James' cross examinations during the hearings made it clear that the police were not truthful and the case was now not as strong as originally believed. Because of this, the plea offer was reduced from 20 years to practically nothing. I know we could have won the trial after having seeing James at the hearing, but given the amazingly good plea offer, I had to decide if I should take the small risk that things would go wrong at trial. I asked him what he thought. As always, James was honest and looked out for my best interests, not his financial interests. I would have gone to trial if he told me to and paid him whatever he asked for, but he agreed that when we weighed the unknown risk of trial against the plea offer that was so good, it was clear that I should take the plea. In doing that, he made less money and I got the best representation possible. The man is a straight shooter, he looks out for his clients and he is amazing in the courtroom.

— Jeff from Brooklyn

◆ During what has been one of the worst times of my life, when I was facing charges of federal labor violations, there is one person I have come to trust and count on like no other—James Kousouros. From day one, I have never felt like I'm just a client to him. His capabilities and knowledge are second to none. He is genuinely concerned not only for me but for my family as well. I consider James not only my lawyer but also my friend.

—John Farnsworth, New Jersey

◆ Plain and simple I thought I was going to end up doing 30 years in prison for cocaine conspiracy out of the northern district of New York. After retaining James to represent me things began to turn in my favor. James is a fighter! I knew that I had an attorney who was willing to go to battle on my behalf as if it was his life on the line. James has been there for me in every way possible. His open and direct way of communicating allows a person to know truthfully what they're up against. Regardless of how busy he may be, he finds
